As a result of recent examinations by our Medical Staff, it was found that he was unqualified for employment with the Agency and he was advised to retire on medical disability grounds. declined to retire voluntarily, and has consistently maintained that he is fit for continuing employment with the Agency. This case has been personally reviewed by the Director of Central Intelligence, Mr. Dulles, who has talked to and urged that he accept the arrangements made for his retirement. In the absence of such acceptance, however, we have been forced to act, and
